After weeks of working up his courage, Luan finally put his little plan of getting raped by complete strangers into action.

He quickly finds a group of slimy, kinda dangerous looking men who seem interested in him, so he tries his best to look as vulnerable and gullible as possible.

They keep offering him drinks, which he knows for sure have more than just alcohol in them, and gladly drinks them, slowly feeling his consciousness fade.

It doesn't take long for the men to start taking off Luan's clothes and groping him.

Although he can already barely resist at this point, he still tries to push them away, to check if they would force him to endure their touching.

As expected, they easily swat his hands away and continue doing whatever they want to Luan's exposed body.

Realizing that he is about to get raped for real, his cunt gets wetter than it has ever been and he can't help but let a silly grin escape his lips.

The strangers take him to what Luan assumes must be the home of one of them.

At this point, he is struggling to stay fully awake. Every time he comes to, he was in a different position, being fucked by different men, in a different way.

There are many more of them than there were before. The faces keep on changing and he is sure they are always new. He is sure at the very least more than 15 different men have had their way with him at this point.

He knows he will never truly know how many or who they were.

Just as he had fantasized.

After a while, the effects of the alcohol and whatever had been in his drink start fading away and Luan gains some more control of himself.

However, he is so excited about the whole ordeal he completely drops his façade of “not wanting this” and just starts to enthusiastically participate.

This amuses the strangers, but they still need to take their “precautions”.

Before they let Luan go, all of them take plenty of pictures and videos. They also get the info for everyone on his phone.

The men then say that if he ever tries to report them, they would make sure everyone he knows would receive those.

They also make him record a video saying how much he loved this and how it was all consensual from the start. Lastly, they inform him that they will “keep in touch” and that if he wants those videos to stay private, Luan would become their fucktoy and come to their “service” every time they request.

He tries to protest these last parts, but with the blackmail material they had already gathered, he finds himself with no option but to agree. He is now “stuck” with these strangers for the foreseeable future.

The men summon Luan every weekend. For two days, he stays at their house, they throw a party and every guest can use him as they like.

They all take pictures and videos of that too, of course, creating even more blackmail material and pushing him further into the control of those people.

Although he wants to hate the situation he was put in, he gets horny every time he thinks about it. He hates to admit, but he really likes being raped by so many different men so often.

Luan, however, wasn't on any birth control, so it doesn't take long for him to end up pregnant.

Because the only way to get an abortion where he lives would be if he were to report being raped, he has no choice but to take it to the end.

The men don't care about it, they keep on using him in the exact same ways. Some of them clearly get off on the fact that he can never know who the other father is. So does Luan, to be quite honest.

He had previously been stealth at his job and most of his day-to-day life, but the pregnancy completely ruined that.

Luan hates the situation he is in with the exact same intensity that he is extremely horny about it all.

The worst part for him was that his breasts almost tripled in size due to pregnancy, and he is almost sure they will not go fully back even when he stops lactating.

He can no longer bind with his tape and even regular binders don't make him completely flat.

To make matters worse, the man had taken a special liking to playing with his nipples.

His dysphoria is now worse than it had ever been in his life. Luan felt that he truly was in hell.

But he loved being in hell so much that he decides that he will keep on never, ever start taking birth control while those nice strangers use him as their fuck-toy~

THANK YOU FOR READING!

Author's note:

What can I say, Luan is more unhinged than even Sol.

"what happens to the babies"

Nothing, I have no interest in making his story make too much sense outside of horny so they just don't exist. Sorry if you were expecting anything resembling a plot LOL.

I might go back on that, but for now, no plot, only porn on Luan's side of the fence.
